had never seen anything like it before. The natives are nearly all blacks or a mixture of blacks and Portuguese. They are scarcely semi-civilized, the natives going around with little or no clothing on their bodies. Rio de Janeiro is the most beautiful city I have ever seen. I do not mean the city in itself, but the suburbs and the surroundings. Going into the harbor there is a very narrow entrance with rocks 1200 feet high on one side, and of nearly the same altitude on the other. Being inside the entrance you find yourself in one of the finest harbors in the world. There are numerous indentations and bays, forming in all a network of bays available for docks and shipping. You can take a street car and juside of an hour will be amongst mountains, the tops of which are visible only on clear days, Tropical vegitation of all kinds abound. The sweetest and best oranges are found here. Their botanical garden is a grand treat to one who has never seen anything like it before, and several long avenues of palm trees intersect each other. One serious drawback to Rio is the climate. In the winter time it is healthy enough, but about this time in the year one always finds cases of yellow fever, although not always epidemic. The great trouble is in the drainage. The city is not prop-

When the summer is over and it begins to get cold here, about April, we expect to go back to Rio, but before that time will probably go up to Buenos Ayres. We have been here over two months now. This is about the healthiest place in South America, the climate being very fine. The summer is not quite as hot as that in Canton, and the winter is very mild. They have no snow, occasionally getting a little frost. We have very little rain, but very often get a "pamparo" which is but another name for a gale of wind. The people here are more modern in their ways than in most of these South American cities. Of course the buildings, hotels, etc., are like those in all other Spanish cities. At present they are having a great deal of trouble in government affairs. In fact the country seems to be on the eve of a revolution. The people are dissatisfied with the President, and he has control of the army. In the Argentine Republic the financial condition is very bad. Speculation of all kinds is going on now, and government paper money is worth scarcely

A large number of relatives from Alliance, Canton and Louisville, were here over Sabbath attending the funeral of Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. P. L. Wagner, one of our oldest citizens, departed this life on last Friday, age 79 years, 2 months, 11 days. She was born in Germany, April 2d, 1833. She was married to Frances Wagner who departed from this world about 13 years ago. In the year 1850 they emigrated to America, and came directly to this community and settled on the same farm where they lived and died making 41 years. She was a pious Christian and a constant member of the Reformed church. A devoted and loving mother, an excellent citizen. She had a remarkable memory and could quote and repeat poetry and scripture to the last hours of her life that especially impressed those who visited her. She was a great sufferer for months, entirely helpless for about four months. Her son Frances, who truly honored her, stood by her through all this trial, faithfully doing his whole duty. She was blessed with three children, one son and two daughters, who are all living, together with seventeen grandchildren and twenty-one great grandchildren to mourn and cherish her memory. The Miraculous Care of Otto Sonnenwald Creates a Sensation.

Truth Stranger than Fiction--Healing the Sick Without Medicine-Evidence Right at Home of a Truly Startling Character.

Mr. Herman Wernet of the Canton stove company is in receipt of a letter from Henry J. Ziegemeier, of Canton a cadet on the United States steamship Pensacola. The letteris dated at Monte Video Uruguay, January 25th, the ship at the time being at anchor in that harbor. In writing of his cruise Mr. Ziegemeier says:

"Maderia was the most interesting place I visited, it being a very old place and the first foreign place we visited. It is a beautiful island with some grand scenery, is very mountaineus and abundant in fruits, wines etc. The grapes were the finest I ever ate. The inhabitants are nearly all Portuguese with a few Englishmen. The Cape de Verde Islands were interesting in so far that we had never seen anything like it before. find and remove the cause. This accounts for their failure and his success. To say that Dr. Hyre's work is miraculous, is not stating it too strongly as the following testimonials will show;—

A Miraculous Cure of Otto Sonnewald, in Massillon-Long Years of Suffering, Three years ago an attack of diphtheria Three years ago an attack of diphtheria left this strong and healthy young man, who was then engaged in the grocery business, in a weak and sickly condition. Taking a heavy cold it settled on his lungs, and the deadly symptoms of consumption soon appeared. He lost the use of his voice, and could only speak in a whisper. For a year this young man was medicated by the local doctors, only growing worse. Death was staring him in the face if he remained, and taking desperate chances he went to Cleveland and became the victim of experimental science before the tim of experimental science before the Medical College Clinics. By a rare good fortune he escaped alive, and was afforded a temporary relief, but was obliged to return again for treatment. To use his own language to the writer of this article, he said.

"The first time I went they said I had catarrh of the head, and the second time said I had consumption and was incurble. They advised me to go to the west if I wanted to live longer. I came home just as bad as I went up. I continued taking all kinds of medicine, until at last I began to swell in the face and all over the body. began to swell in the face and all over the body. At last I gave up. I was in de-spair, for no one could help me. But joy came at last! I heard of Dr. Hyre, and went to see him at Canton, O., and was treated on New Year's afternoon, 1891. The next morning I had scarcely any pain on my lungs, and my voice was bet-ter. This is one of the most astonishing cures in the local annals of Massillon, and the well-known probity of Otto is the greatest guarantee of its genuineness. He is only too anxious to personally relate his ex-perience, and will be pleased to tell it or write it to anyone. He lives at the corner of Superior and Spruce streets, Massillon, Miss Frediricha Bacar, from just over the track, to-day entered a charge of a rather serious nature against one Fred. Kloos. Fred., although a sober and industrious citizen, had not that amount handy, and offered to marry the girl to settle the trouble. The proposal was refused. Fred's attorney, J. D. A committee of three citizens were drafted to act as arbitrators and interpretors, and a compromise was effected without bringing the matter into court. A Boy Suffering With Chorea Plunged in a Barrel of Water.

A Peculiar Case Reported from Tuscarawas Township-A Boy Dies After the Strange Treatment.

A case of death is reported to-day from Tuscarawas township, which, if correctly outlined, demands the fullest investigation at once. Some time last August Dr. D. S. Gardiner was called to attend the sixteen year-ofd son of T. L. Davis, a coal miner, who lives in a small house near the Sippo cosl mine, where the switch crosses the road, about five miles northwest of this city. He found the patient suffering from rheumatism. At a subsequent visit cardiac trouble appeared, and later chorea supervened. The spasmodic muscular action of the boy was painful to witness. He would writhe all over the room at times. As the family was not well equipped with this world's goods, the doctor did not make frequent visits, but received reports of the patient's condition and sent out the necessary medicines. The last that the doctor heard of the case was last Thursday, and he had formed the impression that the patient had been taken out of his hands. It was an interesting case to watch as the development of the various affections was peculiar.

Last evening the sequel of the case was Washington avenue.

On Saturday or Sunday Joseph Eberwein, a root and herb doctor living on Washington avenue at the corparation stated that he declared his ability to cure him easily and prescribed a peculiar mode of treatment. A barrel of waterwas to be procured-and some sulphus was to be thrown into it. The boy was to be douched into this biting bath for fifteen minutes the first day, half an hour the next, and thus increasing daily.

The parents, undoubtedly well mean ing, and desirous of alleviating the horribly afflicted child, followed the directions. It is stated that he endured the first day's plunge for fifteen minutes, but yesterday, when he was removed from the barrel and placed on the bed, he exthe barrel and placed on the bed, he expired shortly afterwards. He suffered dreadfully while in the bath and Mr. Phillips and some friends of the family who were in the room at the time strenuously protested. Dr. T. Clarke Miller was informed of the case by Dr. Phillips. The Coroner has been notified, and if any quackery can be established the fullest power of the law should be exercised to give it due punishment.—[Massillonian. give it due punishment.-[Massilloniar Coroner Openheimer was notified this morning and left at once to investigate.
